Details on p2.

What:

Style Focus: Dark and Rich Beers
Officer Elections

Officer Nominations

Don't forget that November's meeting will be officer election night! If you would like to nominate yourself (or someone else) and will not be at the meeting, please let one of the current officers know. Current nominees are in the mid-month newsletter.

Style Focus: Dark and Rich

It's just after spooky season, and there is a chill in the air.

What a great time to talk about all those dark, rich, high gravity beers that dominate the cold season in Cleveland. Join us for a focus on these great beer styles.

We will have several homebrewed examples on tap. Each brewer will have an opportunity to talk about the beer, their process, and how their beer fits into this category.

We will also be holding officer elections, so be sure to come to vote!

Christmas Party

As a reminder, the December meeting is our annual Christmas Party. Paid members can register themselves and their guests at the link below.

Son of Brewzilla

Ohio's premier Homebrew Competition is back! The 2021 Son of Brewzilla will be held at Fat Heads Beer Hall in Middleburg Heights on November 19th & 20th. Entries are currently full, but we could defiantly use more volunteers, particularly stewards.

Stewarding requires no previous experience; we will help you learn everything you will need to know!

Important Dates

- Account, volunteer, and entry registration all currently open
- Entry Drop Off is at Fat Heads November 5th through 13th

President's Krausening

It was great to see all the photos from Scene magazine featuring Beer Week events. The Beer Week folks have done an awesome job picking up the ball and running with it after John Lane and the Winking Lizard stepped back from it two years ago. After a Covid-necessitated Beer Week Light last year, Beer Week was back this year with many of the old popular events as well as some new ones. There were many fun events and opportunities to drink tasty crafts brews and socialize.

As we SNOBs know, Beer Week means many opportunities to participate in the fun by volunteering. As those photos showed, the SNOBs are volunteers. We give back to our beer community by helping make these events happen time and time again. Not just beer week either. You'll find us manning the taps, checking in other volunteers and otherwise assisting at all the major beer festivals in the city. I give all the club members who volunteer and help make these events fun a lot of credit for doing so. You folks are givers.

Here's to you, the members donate your time to make these community-wide events happen and run smoothly.

Cheers,

JAY

SNOBs Night Out

When: Tuesday, November 9
Where: Brick and Barrel
Time: 6 pm until ?

Cara is brewing up something truly special down at Brick and Barrel. Come and join us as we head down by the river and taste all of the great work she's been doing.

Get Involved!

We know this seems early to be talking about this. But we want to ask if anyone has an interest in getting a little more involved in the club this year and becoming an officer next year. This year you could help plan a meeting or two, a night out or an activity or event. We'd especially like to recruit some of our younger members to get involved in running the club and to keep the club moving forward. Let any officer know if you are interested.
